

Morning Service of Worship – from 12th July 2020

We will be holding a service of worship in the chapel at our normal time of 11am on 12th July, and hopefully every week after that. This is very much a first step in returning to normal worship. We will have to keep reviewing how we do things in the light of events and Government advice. We will continue to produce and distribute weekly printed services so nobody will feel any obligation to attend; if you are worried please leave it until you feel safer.

We want the service to be as normal as possible but there will be some differences. The Chapel has undertaken all the required risk assessments and put in place the correct arrangements, including

- social distancing measures
- we won't be singing but we will still enjoy hymns and songs played and sung by others on screen.
- chairs, handles, light switches, etc will be wiped after each service

Whether next week or in the weeks ahead you choose to worship at home with the Sheet or at the Chapel, we can all be sure that God is near us wherever we are and whatever our circumstances.
